

Think Outside the Box

Pioneering the Industry Since 1999

“We’ve been augmenting and enhancing our feature set, and fine tuning our world-class security for more than 13 years, giving us a deep and loyal customer base.”

Shayne Mehringer
VP of Sales and Client
Services

FilesAnywhere is the world’s leading provider of managed file storage and collaborative solutions for small business, corporations, and large enterprises. As one of the first cloud-based services, we transformed the way people share information. Today, we continue to offer simple, powerful data storage solutions, combined with unparalleled service and exceptional security.

As pioneers in our own industry, we understand the need to thrive in a dynamic environment. Innovation is critical to success and to the creation of an agile infrastructure. Market changes bring the need to adopt new products and services, usually under time-sensitive conditions. FilesAnywhere gives you a combination of elements that create a total benefit for your company and your employees.

A fully managed, end-to-end solution, we can help you meet the challenges of rapidly changing business practice, and integrate enterprise information and business processes with a single application. FilesAnywhere creates value by reducing risk, cost, and complexity while maintaining efficiency and productivity. Granular control over user and data access capabilities allows you to develop elastic boundaries, and every function is housed within an environment that meets the most stringent data compliance and security standards.

FilesAnywhere can help your company realize increased worth through large-scale collaboration. We link people, practices, and workflow, internally and externally, with reliability, scalability, redundancy, and data availability. Leverage the knowledge and experience we've gained serving thousands of companies world-wide, and let us tailor a data solution for your company's unique needs.

“FilesAnywhere has delivered for our organizations across the globe!”

Ed Hernandez
VP of Technology at CitiCapital
Commercial

Solutions for Every Industry